

Conferences and events are always more engaging when they are supported by the highest level of audio-visual technology and industry expertise. As the dedicated in-house audio-visual partner at the Royal International Convention Centre, Microhire provides end-to-end sales and technical support from the initial brief through to delivery and beyond.

Creating a world-class conference or event involves a number of careful considerations and our expert team are fully equipped to deliver your specific needs. Unique to the Royal ICC halls structural feature is the operable ceiling grid system. Being the first of its kind in Australia, this system comprises of 36 operable grids which lower to floor working height, enabling timely installations of technical equipment, creative styling décor and fast and easy hanging of drapes, banners and other rigging elements to enhance your brand.

With a comprehensive range of audio-visual services and innovative solutions, our impressive inventory includes state-of-the-art Panasonic DLP laser projectors and an array of 16:9 and widescreen projection screens for crystal-clear visuals. Our LED Video Walls includes 2.6mm touring screens, custom curve options and 90-degree corner pieces. Commercial quality LED is suitable for outdoor use and expansive indoor displays. This enhancement provides even more creative freedom for your events.

Your audio experience is further enhanced with line array speakers, subs, and amps and our lighting upgrade is a true game-changer with Moving lights, Pixel mappable blinders, LED stage wash fixtures, Zoom LED par cans, LED Tubes, and LED Wireless battery Tubes. State-of-the-art Grand MA 3 lighting consoles and MPU completes our extensive lighting installation. Our top-tier suite of production services includes floor plans, audience interaction tools, IT support, device rental, and creative services for event styling and innovative concepts. Our client's recent event says it all...

"The Microhire team provided everything we needed and went above and beyond with the delivery of our aesthetic design. Thank you!"

With our state-of-the-art technology, commitment to innovative event delivery and customer service excellence, you can be assured that our experienced team are friendly, adaptable and ready to deliver all of your event needs.

Microhire; your trusted event partner, committed to success.

