Queensland's largest caravan show rolls into the Brisbane Showgrounds

The state's largest caravanning show, the six-day Let's Go Queensland Caravan and Camping Supershow will open at the Brisbane Showgrounds today.

Outdoor enthusiasts will have much to explore with more than 200 exhibitors showcasing over 900 of the latest caravans, motorhomes, campervans, camper/tent trailers and slide-ons.

Industry experts from Vision RV, TJM, Getabout Training, MSA 4x4 Products and Hard Korr Campers will lead a variety of masterclasses, live demonstrations and workshops throughout the show.

Show goers will be able to have a crack at an all-new off-road towing test track, learn the top bush cooking tips from industry personality Ranger Nick and get destination inspiration from Kate and Paul of The Feel Good Family.

There will also be family-friendly entertainment on offer, including super-sized versions of some classic road trip board games and even a weekend feature of a rock-climbing wall.

Brisbane Showgrounds General Manager of Venue Sales and Marketing Jago Coyle said they are proud to host such an iconic event that has been coming to the Brisbane Showgrounds for an incredible 43 years.

"The event's long-standing association with the Brisbane Showgrounds is a credit to our dedicated staff and versatile venue," he said.

"It's the second-largest annual event to be held at our historic Showgrounds precinct, behind the Royal Queensland Show (Ekka), which is only 66 days away."

The Let's Go Queensland Caravan and Camping Supershow is operating under a Queensland Health approved COVID Safe Plan.

The Brisbane Showgrounds precinct is located 1.5km from Brisbane's CBD and is Queensland's largest indoor/outdoor events site.
