Popular event ready to rum-ble at the Brisbane Showgrounds

Hundreds of rum enthusiasts will converge on the Brisbane Showgrounds this Saturday, for one of Australia's largest rum events.

Rum Revolution features more than 30 distilleries and 100 of the best international and domestic rums, including limited releases and rare liquors, under the one roof in the John Reid Pavilion.

There will also be live music by Alvin on the steel drums who will bring the Caribbean vibe, food trucks, masterclass sessions and more.

It's the second time the event has taken place in Brisbane, but the first time it has been staged at the Showgrounds.

Brisbane Showgrounds General Manager of Venue Sales and Marketing Jago Coyle said they were thrilled to welcome Rum Revolution to their venue.

"This is a fantastic event by the founders of Rum Club Brisbane that has continued to gain a following since its inaugural event in May this year," Mr Coyle said.

"With their numbers growing, our venue offers the event organisers more space than ever before, including plenty of room for exclusive VIP spaces."

Rum Revolution features two sessions (11am to 2:30pm and 3:30 pm to 7pm), with tickets available online.

The Brisbane Showgrounds precinct is located 1.5km from Brisbane's CBD and is Queensland's largest indoor/outdoor events site. Visit www.brisbaneshowgrounds.com.au.
