Game on for a weekend of exploring hobbies at the Brisbane Showgrounds

Thousands of gaming enthusiasts and hobbyists are set to level up their weekend at the Brisbane Showgrounds for GhMX (GameX).

The two-day gaming, model and hobby expo will take over the Exhibition Building on Saturday and Sunday (21-22 November), offering visitors a chance to explore a huge range of interests, discover new hobbies and get hands-on with activities.

The event will feature tabletop and card gaming tournaments, Dungeons & Dragons, learn-to-play sessions, video gaming, miniature figure painting, model kit building, cosplay, special guest panels, Bris Brix displays, an RC Zone and a Medieval Battle Arena.

Visitors can also enter the Scale Model Build Competition or browse the many retail stalls for inspiration and unique finds.

Brisbane Showgrounds General Manager of Venue Sales and Marketing Jago Coyle said they were looking forward to hosting the event for the fourth time.

“GhMX is Australia’s most immersive hobby and retail expo, and we’re expecting around 3,000 people to attend,” he said.

“It's fantastic to see so many different interests brought together under one roof, with something for everyone whether they're experienced hobbyists or looking to try something new.”

The event will run from 10am to 5pm each day, with tickets available online.

The Brisbane Showgrounds precinct is located 1.5km from Brisbane’s CBD and is Queensland’s largest indoor/outdoor events site. Visit www.brisbaneshowgrounds.com.au
